Trione Vineyards & Winery

Dedicated farmers for four decades, the Trione family cultivates over 650 acres in three prime Sonoma County appellations: Russian River Valley, Alexander Valley and Sonoma Coast. In 2005 they established the Trione Winery, a new legacy located next to a landmark stone building at their Home Ranch in Alexander Valley.

Winemaker Scot Covington selects merely the top three percent of the estate grapes to produce Trione wines. Built in close collaboration with Scot, the winery is designed specifically for crafting small lots of estate wine.
